MARQUIS ITO IN ENGLAND.

The Friendship between Britain and Japan.

The following are the speeches made by the Lord Mayor of London and Marquis Ito at the banquet given by the Lord Mayor to his distinguished visitor:—

The Lord Mayor said:—Before I give you the next toast, I beg to read a letter which I have received from H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught, which I think will be interesting to us, and also to our friends who are our guests to-day. The Duke writes:—'My dear Lord Mayor,—I thank you very much for your invitation to lunch on Jan. 3, to meet the Marquess Ito. I shall be back again in Ireland by then; otherwise it would have given me the greatest pleasure to meet your distinguished guest, of whose fascinating country I retain such pleasant recollections' (cheers). In asking you to drink the health of his Excellency the Marquess Ito, I feel considerable difficulty in confining my remarks within reasonable limits when I realise that the subject of these remarks is that great Statesman, the ex-Premier of Japan. I could with gratification dwell on the tall, courteous, and successful personal career of the Marquess, almost unequalled in truth and fiction, but the incidents of that career, so well known to all, do not only represent the achievements of a great character, a wonderful brain, an indomitable will, and public spirit (cheers), but they have carried with them from year to year the fortunes of an Empire which it is hardly too much to say has been created, or rather recreated, by our illustrious guest of to-day (cheers). Whether we look at the growth of civilisation, the increase of political and commercial relations, the spread of science, or the establishment of constitutional freedom, we are amazed at the almost fabulous progress of Japan in the last forty years. And when we seek to divine the spring of all this

THE KISS OF HISTORY.

A Danish gentleman has written a History of the Kiss, which is soon to be brought before us in an English version. That version, one may be sure, will be awaited with the liveliest interest. Especially interesting will it be to discover on what authorities the narrative is based. The first kiss, presumably, was given by Adam to Eve. But the history of the kiss, as an indication of affection, would seem to be a much more difficult thing to discuss than the kiss in history. We are told that there have been, and are still, communities among whom the act of kissing was, and is, unknown. One finds the statement difficult of credence. In the musical comedy, O-Minerva San professes ignorance of the effect of "the meeting of the lips." That, also, is among the things one takes "cum grano." But we are assured (says the Japan Gazette) that the kiss has been on many an occasion, all-powerful, and eminently disturbing in its results. The first kiss bestowed by Cleopatra upon Anthony—that had disastrous consequences. And it does not stand alone. For what is a kiss, if it is not the emblem of feminine influence in all worldly affairs? It is only fair to say that in history the kiss has been, not disturbing always, but frequently consoling and inspiring. It has done much good, perhaps, as harm. It has been duly celebrated in song, but it deserves suitable recognition in the delectable prose of history.

FOOTBALL.

Challenge Shield Competition.—Second Round.

'H' Co. v. 'C' Co. R.F.F. Yesterday afternoon, the Shield tie, in the second round, between 'H' Co. and 'C' Co. was played at Happy Valley, in presence of a large gathering of the towns' following, the red coats being greatly in evidence. 'H' Co. disposed of the Royal Engineers in the first round, while 'C' had a 'walk-over' from the 19th Co. R.A. The former have been spotted for the final, but will need to play an improved game if they are to gain first honours. 'C' Co. gave them a good hard game yesterday, and though beaten by two goals to nil, there was not a great deal to choose between the teams. The conditions were favourable for a good game. Teams:—

'H' Co.—Goal: Johnson; backs—Smart and Edwards; half-backs—Stifford, Pownall and Sweet; forwards—Dugg, Williams, Shields, Walters and Dobbs.

'C' Co.—Goal: Evans; backs—Torrey and Cookson; half-backs—W. Lewis, Jones, and Herring; forwards—Bridges, Thomas, Miller, Ashbury, and G. Lewis. Play was in favour of 'H' Co. at the outset, the best of playing against a strong sun handicapping 'C' considerably. Early in the game Evans showed good ability in clearing his charge, but the persistency of the attack was bound to have its reward, and from a backway by the right wing Pugh deflected past the opposition and shot a pretty goal. Keeping up the pressure, the same player continued beautifully, and Shields found the net, but the referee ruled the latter player out of order, and the point was disallowed. Thereafter 'C' had a fair share of all that was going, the half-time whistle sounding with the score standing 1-0 in favour of 'H' Co.

The game continued to be played in spirited fashion, 'H' Co. doing the bulk of the pressing, but their shooting was decidedly bad. Pownall has lost the form he displayed when playing for the Shield winners two seasons ago, but for the day only perhaps. The forwards of 'C' indulged in some good combination and their efforts were deserving of a goal. Another point fell to 'H' Co., and a very pleasant game ended—'H' Co. 2 goals, 'C' 0.

The win was according to form, for 'H' Co. have good football in them. The backs are strong kickers, and fearless tacklers, while in the half-back line Sweet plays a neat and paying game. 'Jim' may come on a bit before the next tie, with 'A' Co., but he was 'stale' in yesterday's game. Bad shooting was the only fault to be found with a hard working set of forwards, Pugh and Dobbs, perhaps, being the most prominent.

For the losers, Torrey played a superior game at back, time and again sending the opposition to the 'right about.' Lewis also displayed good form in defence and attack. The forwards, though combining well at times, wanted more spirit to win the desired points.

Mr. Clark, H.M.S. Thetis, handled the game to the satisfaction of all.

Latest Results from England.

BOXING CONTEST.

Last night, the much-talked-of fistic encounter between Sam Bentley, Kowloon Torpedo Depot, and Sailor George Smith, H.M.S. Thetis, took place in the Theatre Royal before a very large attendance of eagerly interested spectators, who crowded every part of the building. Both men are well-known in the local 'ring,' and the fact that they can bring together such a large following goes to show that interest in the art is not yet dead in Hongkong, and has frequently been hinted at late, and that, when the public know they are not to be imposed upon, they will ungrudgingly bestow their patronages of old. Mr. Davies, Kowloon Hotel, was elected referee, and Messrs W. S. Bailey and W. Waters held chronometers for the principals, while Mr. H. Sampson was official time-keeper. Just before the commencement of the tussle, Mr. Deveney, who was master of ceremonies, intimated that the conditions of the match were the best of fifteen 2-minute rounds, with 4-ounce gloves, for a side bet of $250 each, a purse of $800 and the Middle Weight Championship of the Colony. Both men stripped well. Bentley weighing 128 lbs and Smith turning the scale at 118. 3 lbs. Notwithstanding his advantage in weight, Smith was not the favourite, though he had a large following. Bentley was a about even money, and everything pointed to a prolonged and square struggle. Bentley forced at the start, and got in some telling punishment to which Smith replied with a few heavy hits, most of which were carefully warded off by Bentley. In the third round, Smith, who had hitherto struck a lot of knocking without apparent effect, drove a hard fist at Bentley and was unfortunate in dislocating his thumb. In the fourth round he was no match for Bentley, but in the fifth round he came up surprisingly well and again it looked as if the spongy and Bentley was declared the winner, the victory being apparently a popular one.

HAD A GOOD TIME.

A. J. SNELL wanted to attend a party, but was afraid to do so on account of pains in his stomach, which he feared would grow worse. He says, 'I was telling my troubles to a lady friend, who said: "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy will put you in condition for the party." I bought a bottle and took pleasure in stating that two doses cured me and enabled me to have a good time at the party.' Mr. Snell is a resident of Summer Hill, N.Y., U.S.A. This remedy is for sale by All Dealers; WATKINS & CO., Ltd., General Agents.

CRICKET.

The Third Test Match.

London, January 18.—The weather today at Adelaide for the second day's play in the Third Test Match was dull, the sky being overcast. There was a very large attendance, and the cricket proved of a thoroughly interesting nature, the position of the scores at the end of the day's play leaving the game in an exceedingly open condition, with the advantage in favour of the Australians, who with eight wickets to fall are 216 runs behind the English total. The wicket was badly worn at one end, when Braund, not out 35, and Quife, not out 51, resumed this morning's play being 236 with five wickets down. Quife continued his patient innings, and kept his wicket up whilst Braund went on scoring. Braund was in magnificent form, but, after Quife went when 68, he could find no one to stay in with him, except Gunn, who made 24 runs. Mr. A. O. Jones and Barnes only scored 5 runs apiece, and Blythe 2. Braund carried out his last for a splendid innings of 103, and was enthusiastically received on leaving the wicket. The best bowling analysis was that of Noble, who took three wickets for 58 runs, Trumble also took three wickets, but at a cost of 124 runs. Howell only managed to get one wicket, at a cost of 82 runs. The Australians, on going in against the English total of 388, made a splendid start, and five crickets by Clem Hill and Victor Trumper carried the score to 172 for 2 wickets. Clem Hill being still not out, when stumps were drawn, with 83 runs to his credit, the result of a brilliant innings. Trumper made 65 in a stylish manner.

January 20.—Play was resumed to-day in warm weather and before a very large attendance of spectators. The wicket was good when the Australians resumed. Clem Hill, not out 83, added 15 more to his score to-day. His 98 was a brilliant innings, and included twelve fours. The Australian eleven was disposed of for 321 runs or 67 runs behind the Englishmen's total. The best bowling for the Englishmen was done by Gunn, who took three wickets for 58 runs. Braund scored three wickets but at a cost of 143 runs. Blythe secured one wicket only at a cost of 64 runs. The English team has had the great misfortune to have two of its bowlers—Barnes and Blythe—injured during the progress of the match. It is feared that Barnes, who sustained his leg knee whilst bowling on Saturday, and he was confined to bed on Sunday and to-day. Blythe has sprained his finger. Going in a second time the Englishmen made a good start. Mr. MacLaren took Hayward with him in a really nice innings, and together the two steadily raised the score. Mr. MacLaren was really good yesterday when he had made 44 runs, but yesterday's innings, the two played out time. The score at the close was 98 for one wicket. Hayward being 44 not out, and Tyldesley 4 not out.

January 21.—On Monday night, rain fell, and when play was threatened this morning, the weather was threatening and niggly, with a consequent effect on the attendance, which was only moderate. The wicket was obviously worn when Hayward (44) and Tyldesley (4) last night's not-out, went to the wickets and made 55 runs. Englishmen, who were in a really nice driving of stumps on Monday evening was 98 for the loss of Mr. MacLaren's wicket. Tyldesley only added three runs to his overnight score before he was dismissed. He had made 47 runs in a highly attractive manner. Quife followed in and at once commenced a most strictly defensive game. Tyldesley, after completing 25 runs, was out; and Mr. Jessop came next. His life was not very long, but was a characteristic one; he only made 16 runs, but 13 of these were made by three hits, namely, five and two fours. Braund joined Quife, who was patiently keeping his end up and making no attempt to score. After making 17 runs in a somewhat quiet manner for him, Braund was dismissed and was succeeded by Tilly. Quife continued to stonewall consistently, and when Tilly had scored 21, Quife's continuation had only reached 27 for a morning's play. At lunch time the players were still together, with the score 204 for five wickets. A brilliant dastardism act in the lunch and the game could not be resumed and finally stumps were put down for four wickets.

January 22.—In perfect weather, but with only a moderate attendance and on a wicket which had not improved, the Englishmen resumed their second innings this morning, and only succeeded in compiling 247. Quife played a steady and consistent innings of 44. Tilly did not add to his overnight score of 21. Mr. A. O. Jones played a lively innings of 11, Gunn made only 5, and Blythe was not out at the close of 10 runs. Barnes, whose sprained knee is improving, was absent. The fielding of the Australians was good. Trumble had the greatest success with the ball, his six wickets costing 315 to make to win, and so good was the fielding, that when stumps were drawn, 21 runs had been scored for the loss of 4 wickets. Once more the hero of the Australian side was Clem Hill, who played a remarkably brilliant innings of 97 runs before he was bowled by Mr. Jessop. When he had made 19 runs only Hill gave an easy chance of stumping, while Tilly, the wicket-keeper, missed. The fielding of the Englishmen was brilliant in the extreme, and was repeatedly cheered by the spectators. Blythe, directly against the doctor's advice, went on and bowled several overs, but was unsuccessful. Clem took three of the four wickets which fell before stumps were drawn.

—LATER.—Australia won by four wickets. Scores:—

WAR MEDALS OF 1902.

The China Medal.

A writer in the Times deals in an interesting manner with the 'War Medals of 1902,' and concludes as follows:—

Lastly comes the China medal. There is no doubt that this will be practically a re-issue, both as regards medal and ribbon, of the China medal issued for the campaigns of 1841-42 and 1857-60. This medal, the first ever issued with the Queen's head on it, has on the reverse a military and naval trophy of cannon, arms, and colours grouped around a palm tree; above, the legend, armis exparte piam; in the exergue, China 1842. In the re-issue of 1861 the date was omitted. In the present issue the date of the recent operations will presumably be restored to the exergue, and on the reverse the effigy of King Edward VII. will replace that of the late Queen. The ribbon is red with yellow borders. For the 1857-60 campaign the medal was not issued to those already in possession of the 1842 medal. They received only such of the five clasps as they were entitled to, with, in addition, a clasp inscribed China 1842. The clasps are the most significant part of the medal, and keen anxiety, the more especially in the Navy, is felt as to what clasps will be issued with the China medal of 1902. It should go without saying that there will be the three clasps—viz., for the capture of the Taku forts, the defence of the Legations, and the relief of Peking. There certainly should, however, be a clasp for the services of the force that first landed with Sir Edward Seymour—the men who made the gallant effort to relieve the beleaguered Legations—as well as those who saw such splendid pluck and endurance in and around Tientsin from June 19 to July 14. The immediate purpose of Sir Edward's gallant dash on Peking failed; it is true, but the failure was like the annihilation of Wilson's men on the Shanghai, a defeat as glorious as any victory ever recorded in our annals. The Navy still stands under the injustice done them in the issue of the South African medal, the omission of a clasp for Graspan, the sailor's fight. If they are once again deprived of a clasp eagerly looked for and so well earned, the feeling of soreness which already exists will be very much intensified.
